

Wellman's Ejection Earns, Not an Oscar, but a Suspension

Written by Maury Brown
Monday, 04 June 2007 15:41

---

He may be a Minor League manager, but his meltdown was Major League All-Star caliber.

Mississippi Braves manager Phillip Wellman's performance art ejection Friday night has earned him a three game suspension. The video, in all its glory, of the Double-A Braves manager has thousands -- if not millions -- of fans by now due to the ejection. And, he has a fan in someone known for an ejection or two, as well:

Bobby Cox

.

The AP reports that Cox has watched the meltdown at least 50 times.

As more than one has mentioned... "Suspension? He should get a raise for the performance."