

ESPN to Launch Prime-time Newsmagazine

Written by Maury Brown
Monday, 16 July 2007 01:17

ESPN will be adding more programming to their Fall line-up come October.

The "Worldwide Leader In Sports" plans to launch a prime-time newsmagazine tentatively titled ESPN Reports according to Mediaweek.

The show is slated to launch on Tuesday, Oct. 16 at 7 p.m. ET.

ESPN says the show will be a "combination of investigative features, profiles of sports personalities, and stories on innovations in the sports world."