Robert A. DuPuy, Major League Baseball President and Chief Operating Officer, made the following statement regarding the lawsuit filed by the former limited partners of the Montreal Expos:

"Regrettably, the former limited partners of the Montreal Expos and self-styled leading citizens of Canada, now the limited partners of the Florida Marlins, have decided to engage in a public relations campaign and file a frivolous lawsuit naming among others Major League Baseball and its Commissioner.

"The suit has no basis in fact or in law. We intend to pursue our defenses vigorously and will seek sanctions against those responsible for bringing these baseless claims.
